

Welcome to our kitchen

Not fancy, but cheerful and home to a lot of visitors and a lot of cooking and eating. This kitchen also sees a lot of freezing and canning and other preps for food storage.

We have cut flowers all over the place once they are in season.

This room, at one time, used to be a dining room, but now serves as more of an extension of the kitchen.

The kitchen as the sun sets in the west window.